Arthaus

Come to Thredbo and immerse yourself in the Arthaus - cross disciplinary art courses run by practising painters, sculptors and photographers in the refreshing air and clear light of the Australian high country.

The Arthaus is a new opportunity for artists, sculptors and photographers to learn and develop their skills in the heart of the Snowy Mountains.

Arthaus courses cover the fundamentals. Starting with basic drawing, water-colour, gouache and photography lessons - exploring ideas on paper, canvas and through your viewfinder.

Drawing and photography walks follow to inspire everyone from the novice to the experienced artist-in-residence.

Thredbo is a great place for artists looking to build their portfolio, develop their craft or just as an escape with a difference. We offer a fun, friendly, and inspiring environment.

Arthaus tutors have lived and worked in the mountains for years; their experience and enthusiasm for area is intoxicating.
